

Riding Club At New Lenox To Give Show

The New Lenox Riding club is making final preparations for its second annual Gymkhana.

The riding club is being assisted with the event by the New Lenox Sportsman's club and the program will be staged Sunday afternoon, Oct. 2, on the old ball diamond along Route 30, on the west edge of New Lenox.

Should there be rain on Oct. 2, the affair will be put off until the following Sunday, Oct. 9.

Harold Cooper Wins Awards For Sales

Harold Cooper, of the Cooper and Hostert garage, was one of the leading salesmen of Ford cars and trucks for June, July and August. As a result of his sales record he was awarded an all-expense-paid trip to Las Vegas, Nev., for himself and Mrs. Cooper.

The Ford company has charted a plan for the trip but Harold Cooper has decided to forgo this means of transportation. Instead he will take the check for the expenses, a tidy little sum in itself. His sales for the past three months put him into the top 10 per cent of the salesmen in the country.

Beginner's Luck

Four fishermen from Mokena enjoyed a wonderful fishing trip recently to Nor-Wis resort, at Boulder Junction, Wis. There were Harold Cooper, Lawrence Kohl, Elmer Cooper, and Paul Lembke. They fished over the week end on Fish Trap lake and long about 3 p.m. a big whoop went up when Lawrence Kohl, (the first time he ever went fishing) had a big fighting fish on his hook, and they mean fighting. The fish broke the line and swallowed hook and all but because it was in shallow water along the shore, Kohl jumped in and held his catch down with his foot. Then Paul Lembke hooked it with a gaff and pulled it out — a tiger muskie, 33 1/2 inches long weighing 9 pounds 6 ounces. The happy fishermen then returned home. Sorry, the above picture is not too clear, but the fish can be seen.

Truck Designer On Visit Here

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Jordan of Whittier, Calif., and their son Charles and wife of Birmingham, Mich., were guests of Mrs. Leland Jordan's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Lettis at Lincoln Estates Sunday.

Charles Jordan is chief designer in charge of special project studio No. 4 of General Motors styling. A young man of 27, he is a distinguished engineer who has already many designing accomplishments to his credit. He stopped at the Lettis enroute to the Powerama show in Chicago, back from Milwaukee, Wis. where he lectured at a tractor institute.

Charles, who is the youngest of five children, completed his high school at Whittier, Calif., and graduated in 1949 from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He won the national first prize for an original automobile design in Fisher Body Craftsmen's guild contest which was a $4,000 scholarship to the Massachusetts school, where he already has completed two year's study.

Among other outstanding accomplishments, Jordan has to his credit such notable style contributions to the railroad and automotive industry as GM's new "Aerotraine", a GMC "dream truck" known as L'Universelle, and GM's Euclid TC-12 tractor, all three of which are attracting great attention at the General Motors Powerama in Chicago now.

Jordan also designed Chevrolet's 1955 model truck. In 1954 he co-directed the design of the GMC "Universal" Motorama show truck and later was promoted to the chief designer of the Euclid Electromotive studio to direct the styling of the Euclid TC-12 tractor, known as "The Twin Crawler", and the GM Light-weight train.

From early childhood Charles Jordan was interested in styling of automobiles, trucks, tractors and all heavy machinery. He looks on the above mentioned projects as only a beginning, rather than an end, and is already working on new shapes for the earth movers of the future.

2 Injured In 5-vehicle Crash

Two drivers and a passenger were injured Monday in a collision involving five vehicles on Route 30, near 80th ave., Lincoln Estates, but only one of them was held at St. James hospital, Chicago Heights for observation.

He is Francis Ruff, of Bloom, Wis. A passenger in his car was also taken to the hospital but was released after examination. The other driver injured was Glen Rhodes of McCook, Neb. He was given treatment at St. James and then released.

According to the accident report of state police Floyd Martin, of Frankfort, accompanied by his 2-year-old daughter Betty, was driving west on Route 30. At 80th ave., he stopped preparatory to making a left turn. A semi-trailer behind him, driven by Herbert Brown, of Bloomington, Ill., seeing Martins hand and mechanical signals also came to a halt, but an auto transport driven by Rhodes which was also heading west, was unable to stop. The transport truck hit the semi-trailer a glancing blow in the rear causing that vehicle to nudge Martin's car.

Martin was waiting for two east bound vehicles to pass before he made his turn. The leading east bound car was a station wagon driven by Anthony Amico of Chicago Heights, and there was a TV set strapped to the top of the vehicle. The transport truck is said to have hit the station wagon in the side and then met the Ruff car that was also traveling east, head-on. The TV set was said to have been flung to the side of the road.

The highway is downgraded at the point where the accident occurred.

Methodists Plan Campaign

Announcement has been made by the Rev. Ben F. Day, pastor of the Frankfort Methodist church, that a campaign which will reach all members of the local congregation is now in progress.

Object of the campaign is twofold: to better acquaint the church member with the work of the Methodist denomination's world service; and to give each member an opportunity to share actively in humanitarian work around the world as well as to support his church in its own local and conference responsibilities.

"Last week, and this week," indicated the Rev. Mr. Day, "we are mailing literature and letters to all of our membership. This is preliminary to 'Loyalty Sunday' which we will observe in our church Sept. 25th. Following that, each of those members who were not able to be present in church on Loyalty Sunday, will be called on at home by one of the 10 visitation teams which will be at work."

"In this manner we will reach our entire membership in this important campaign."

The Rev. Mr. Day indicated that Methodists gave more than 40 million dollars last year to the total benevolence programs of the denomination.

Sunday will be Loyalty Sunday at the church when pledges will be received and dedicated at services continuous from 9:30 a.m. through the 10:30 service. At 1 o'clock all canvassers will report at the church when teams and callers will be assigned. This will be followed by an inspirational movie entitled, "Christianity's Starvation."

Oldest Courthouse in Illinois, Built of Logs, Still Stands

BY JOHN W. ALLEN

When Arthur St. Clair came to Illinois in 1790 he issued a proclamation establishing a new county named St. Clair. Its northeastern boundary was a direct line from the site of present day Pekin on the Illinois river to the mouth of the creek that empties into the Ohio at Fort Massac. The Illinois, Mississippi and Ohio rivers completed the boundaries of the newly proclaimed county.

St. Clair established a system of courts for the area. Three places were designated for holding these courts. They were Kaskaskia, Prairie du Rocher, and Cahokia. Judges and Justices of the Peace were appointed and court sessions were held at each place as needed.

In a short time a portion of St. Clair county was detached to form the county at Randolph. Cahokia was then designated as the county seat of St. Clair county. Stocks, a pillory, and a whipping post, grim devices of punishment required in each county, were located here, as well as the courthouse and jail. The stocks, the pillory and the whipping post are long gone, but the courthouse that on occasions also served as a jail is still there, little changed in appearance since it was built more than 150 years ago. In addition to being the oldest courthouse in the state, it is also a typical specimen of the dwellings that the French settlers built in Illinois.

Logs Set Vertical

This house, built of logs arranged vertically, is one of only three known buildings of this type left in Illinois. The other two are the Church of the Holy Family in the same village of Cahokia and a residence in Prairie du Rocher. The Prairie du Rocher residence, however, is covered with weatherboarding and thus remains un-noted.

A unique feature of the Cahokia courthouse is its extended eaves, wide enough to form a porch entirely around the building. This was a common feature of the French colonial dwellings in Illinois. Many of the early French settlers came to Illinois by way of the West Indies where it was a common practice to thus extend the eaves and protect the walls from the hot sun and rains. These immigrants seemed to like the feature and brought it to Illinois with them.

Two methods were used in the construction of the vertical buildings. By one method, trenches conforming to the desired wall outlines were dug about two feet deep. Logs, sometimes hewed, were stood in these trenches to form the house walls. The tops of the vertical logs were then sawed to an even height.

By the second method of construction a stone foundation was laid down and hewed sills were placed upon it. The logs to form the walls stood upon these sills. The spaces between the logs were regularly filled with straw and clay or perhaps with small stones and mortar. Logs with their ends imbedded in the earth naturally rotted away sooner than those placed upon sills. This should explain the fact that each of the surviving buildings is of the "post on sill" type.

The Cahokia courthouse is the oldest of the three buildings mentioned. Its age, however, is now known with certainty. One writer has it built as early as 1716. This date is to be questioned. The best indications are that it was built a few years prior to 1790 by Jean Roy Lepance for a residence.

Once a Saloon

It later passed into the possession of Francois Saucier who had married into the Lepance family. Saucier sold it to St. Clair county on October 8, 1793 for a consideration of $1000. This or another Saucier house had been used for court purposes at an earlier date, a jury having held its deliberations in a room of the residence on June 9, 1795.

From the time when the county bought the Saucier property until the removal of the county seat from Cahokia the building served as a courthouse and as a military center for the area. When the county seat was moved to Clinton Hill, sometimes called Compton Hill but now the city of Belleville in 1814, the county advertised the old courthouse for sale. It was bought by Frances Vaudry on October 16, 1814 for $225.

The ownership of the building for the next 90 years is not so difficult to trace. There are few records, however, to indicate its use during that time. In addition to being used at intervals as a residence, it was being used as a warehouse in the earlier 1870's. In 1881 a writer records the fact that, "For several past years it has been utilized as a saloon."

When the World's Fair came to St. Louis, John Palmer, the owner at that time, sold the building to Alex Zella for exhibition there. After the closing of the fair the building was removed to Jackson Park in Chicago. It stood there until 1939 when the State of Illinois acquired it for re-construction on its original site in Cahokia. Careful study of some early photographs, excavations made at this site and a few bits of documentary materials enabled those charged with the responsibility to accurately restore the building.

The stocks, pillory and whipping posts are long gone as well as the palisade of mulberry posts that enclosed the grounds. The orchard on grounds back of the courthouse is also gone. No one knows the location of the open well into which a colt fell and for which the county paid damages to the owner.

The old courthouse stands as a highly faithful reconstruction. A visit to it helps to make more vivid an interesting period in the history of Illinois.

Blames Blaze In New House On Arsonist

A fire which the owner believes was of incendiary origin occurred in a bedroom on the first floor of a house that is under construction off the Wolf road near Mokena last Saturday night. This is the third time there has been a fire on the premises since work was started earlier in the year, the owner, Charles Simmons, reported at the sheriff's office. Simmons said he felt sure that the fire had been set and was advised to make a report to the state fire marshal's office.

Simmons and his wife were in a shed a couple of hundred feet at the rear of the home, preparing a cup of coffee. Simmons changed to step outside and saw the flames. He told deputies that he and his wife had only left the house about five minutes before the discovery of the fire. It was believed that gasoline was used to start the blaze.

The Mokena fire department extinguished the blaze before it could spread.

Mokena Woman Seeks Divorce

Mrs. Ruth Dath of Mokena who is seeking a divorce from George E. Dath, was granted a leave of court.

Mrs. Dath is asking custody of the three children, alimony, support money, attorney fees, court costs and a lifetime possession of the house and furnishings. She is also seeking an injunction restraining Mr. Dath from molesting her or the children and from disposing of or encumbering the property.

The couple was married June 16, 1937.

August Price for Milk Set at $3.77 per hundred at Chicago

Dairy farmers will be paid $3.77 per hundred weight for milk which was delivered to the Chicago market during August.

This is the price which is paid for Grade A milk testing 3.5 per cent butterfat which is delivered in the 70-mile zone. The price, $3.77, is approximately 8 cents a quart.

The August prices are 33 cents higher than the July prices and are 34 cents above the August 1954 level.

The milk prices were just announced by the Federal Milk Market Administrator's office in Chicago.

During the month of August, dairy companies paid $4.01 or around 8.5 cents a quart for milk used for bottling purposes.

The increase in the farm price is a reflection of market conditions during the past year. It is also a reflection of the seasonal trend in higher fall milk prices.

Harry Edwards, head of the marketing department for Pure Milk Association, said that the increased use of fluid milk and cream and the decrease in manufacturing milk supplies show a favorable trend for fall milk prices. Edwards is responsible for keeping markets for more than 15,000 dairy farmers on the Chicago market.

Surplus milk which was produced for the Chicago market during the spring and summer months was in far less quantity than during the previous year.

During May and June which are the top months for milk production only 60 and 65 per cent of the milk was being used for bottling or similar purposes. In July, 70 per cent of the total production as going into these channels. By August it was up to 80 per cent.

Edwards said that by October and November nearly all of the milk production will be sold for bottling or similar uses. This milk receives a higher price than the surplus milk which is manufactured.

The shortened supply of milk is caused by a decrease in milk production and an increase in sales of milk in Chicago.

The farm milk prices which steadily decreased for 29 months until May 1955 forced many Chicago farmers out of the dairy business or into other markets. The number of dairy farmers supplying Chicago decreased steadily.

In June the trend was reversed and more farmers came back to ship milk into Chicago. With higher prices this trend can be expected to continue, Edwards said.

Which is Faster

5 minutes 31 seconds—at boiling point

RESULTS OF RECENT IMPARTIAL RESEARCH:

Independent engineers of the R. W. Hunt Company (who made this series of tests) stated: "We ran several speed studies—comparing 3 modern flame-type ranges against 3 modern electric ranges. One electric surface unit boiled a quart of water in 5 minutes and 31 seconds. That was 56 seconds faster than the best flame-type burner tested. We made twenty-one tests in all. Results showed that the three electric ranges averaged 40 seconds faster than the three flame-type ranges." (All ranges tested were top brands.)

The answer: Nothing cooks faster than today's electric ranges!

If you have to get meals in a hurry, you know speed is important. But modern electric cooking offers more than speed.

For instance, when you cook vegetables the waterless electric way, the flavor is all there! And don't worry about scorching, because the electric unit heats the pan evenly.

There's no cooler way to cook than with a new electric range. Electric ovens are so well insulated they keep your kitchen up to 10 degrees cooler than flame-type.

Heard about our New Installation Plan? It can save you important money on installation of a new electric range. The Plan is available at all appliance dealers' and Commonwealth Edison or Public Service Company stores. Makes owning an electric range so reasonable there really isn't any reason to wait.

Editorial

The position of the Tinley Park Times on the Tinley sewer problem can be stated in few words.

We want to see sewers built as soon as possible—period. Having sewers, of course, is not all of it. The sewerage must be disposed of—now a major problem.

At one time many, many years ago people had no conception of the relation of sanitation and health. Streets were used as sewers and later when mains were installed they led either to open ditches or fields on the fringe areas of towns or into running streams if any were available.

Disposing of sewerage in such fashion was no problem. And there are many cities and villages that still follow this system, dumping raw sewerage into creeks or rivers. This condition exists in many areas of Illinois and state health authorities are attempting to remedy it.

The state sanitary water board is cracking down in areas where regulations are being flouted. Incorporated and unincorporated areas are told to provide sewerage disposal plants to take care of their sewerage. Until such steps are taken the state sanitary water board is banning sewer construction or extension.

Tinley Park, like many smaller communities, lacks an adequate sewer system. They use septic tanks. Septic tanks serve very well on farms and for isolated residences but they were never intended to take the place of a sewer system in a municipality.

If Tinley Park is to grow it must have adequate sewer facilities. No industry is coming into an area where there are no sewer facilities. And if Tinley Park is to grow it must have industry.

Village Trustee Waldo Childs at a recent meeting of the village board declared that unless something is done to remedy the lack of sewerage facilities the firms that finance home building will no longer make loans in Tinley Park. They will loan money to build a home with a septic tank if the lot covers 20,000 square feet, which is a sizable lot.

The people of Tinley are going to have to build the sewers that will run in front or at the rear of their homes, as the case may be, regardless of what arrangements are made for disposing of the sewerage.

The last session of the legislature passed a bill annexing Tinley Park and certain surrounding areas to the Chicago Sanitary district. A petition has been filed with the district asking that the area be detached.

They say that it will take too long and cost too much for the Chicago sanitary district to lay a trunk line out to Tinley. A hook up of the Tinley sewer system with a trunk line is what is necessary to dispose of the sewerage collected in the mains that serve residences and business houses.

Some believe that the village can finance a sewer system and sewerage disposal plant thru the sale of revenue bonds and do it cheaper and quicker than to pay taxes to the Chicago sanitary district and wait for that body to service Tinley Park.

Revenue bonds are paid off from a municipality's revenues from its water sales and a charge that could be assessed for treating sewerage.

There is petition on file with the Chicago sanitary district asking that a referendum be called at which the people of Tinley would have an opportunity of deciding whether they want to remain in the district or be detached. Under the law providing for the annexation of this particular area it was stated that any referendum held should be conducted on the day of the next municipal or general election.

If an election is ordered there should be ample time for the village authorities to make a study of the situation and present a comparison of costs of various remedies together with their advantages and disadvantages.

Then the people could make an intelligent decision.

Sometimes such issues develop factions and groups and individuals frequently lose sight of the common good in upholding their views. It is hoped that this will not occur in Tinley Park. It is of the utmost importance to the community that it build a sewer system and provide for sewerage disposal as quickly and as economically as possible. It is for the general good of the town and its people that this be done with everyone working together.

Landowners Can Reserve Trees Now Thru State

Farmers and other rural landowners can now reserve trees from the state nurseries for forest planting, A. A. Wicklein, Will County Farm Adviser, announced today. These trees, grown at the Union County state nursery near Jonesboro and at the Mason County nursery east of Havana, may be used to establish a forest stand to grow forest crops, control erosion, develop wildlife cover or start a field shelterbelt. He warned, however, that trees from this source cannot be used in ornamental, landscaping or farmstead windbreak plantings.

Among the softwoods, generally evergreens, light species—jack pine, red cedar, red pine, white pine, bald cypress, loblolly pine, Scotch pine, and shortleaf pine—are offered this year. Foresters recommend that Scotch pine be confined to growing Christmas trees because it develops too poorly for timber use, Wicklein pointed out. The eight broad-leaved species, or hardwoods, include black locust, black walnut, cottonwood, aspen, aspen (hedge), ash, red gum, sycamore and tulip poplar in addition to multiflora rose.

Farm areas that are economically adapted to forest planting generally have slopes too steep to till or graze, severely eroded areas and soils too low in fertility to make soil treatments worth while. Often small areas isolated from one main part of the farm and low lands subject to frequent flooding are well adapted to forest use. Wood crops that can be expected from such plants run from Christmas trees and fence posts to poles and sawlogs.

Wicklein has copies of price lists and application blanks, together with tree planting information.

Car Registrations Up In Illinois

Motor vehicle registration in Illinois at the end of August had already surpassed last year's record high total, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter announced today.

For the first eight months, 3,274,420 motor vehicles of all types were registered, an increase of 73,944 over the entire year of 1954. Mr. Carpenter said. The 1955 figure is 172,357 more than the comparative eight month total for 1954, he added.

In only one category, busses, was a decline noted, Secretary Carpenter said. So far this year, 1,705 have been registered compared with 2,010 at the same time last year.

The breakdown for the two eight month periods shows:

	1955	1954
Passenger cars	2,763,933	2,615,295
Trucks	395,285	380,662
Busses	1,705	2,010
Trailers and semi-trailers	84,608	75,704
Motorcycles	21,248	20,867
Dealers	7,641	7,525

Ready Dairy Bluebloods For Chicago Show

Dairy cattle royalty in 22 states and Canada are being primed by hopeful owners in preparation for the third annual International Dairy Show which is slated for the amphitheatre of the Chicago Stock Yards Oct. 8 thru 15.

Giving the show a true international flavor, cattle owned by Argentine dairymen will also tread the tanbark of the big arena, according to W. A. Wentworth, show president. These are high bred cattle sold by United States breeders for export to South America.

Spotlight on Dairy Foods The eight day exposition extols the virtues of the dairy cow as nature's greatest food factory. In addition to providing a week of judging for bovine aristocrats, the affair puts the spotlight on milk which is nature's most nearly perfect food, and all the magic flavored foods that come from milk—butter, countless varieties of cheeses and the multitude of mouth watering flavors of ice cream. The show will get under way Saturday, Oct. 8 after a two hour parade on downtown State St.

A $25,000 golden dairy recipe contest will highlight activities in a dream kitchen where champions from among 20,000 contestants will demonstrate their kitchen art with dairy foods. The contests top winner receives a trip to Europe.

"The International provides a show case for the nation's abundance," states President Wentworth. "Eight days loaded with interesting events of all kinds should bring the nation's farm food producer and city consumer together."

Championship Rodeo Daily The world's championship "Golden Spurs" rodeo with a prize list of $20,000 will bring top cowboys from all over the country for a thrill packed show of calf roping, bronc busting and Brahma bull riding. Top cowhands will receive a pair of golden spurs. The rodeo will play every night starting Friday Oct. 7 and on four afternoons.

Youth will have a large measure of the shows highlights. These include a junior show for young dairy cattle exhibitors, the collegiate dairy products judging contest, the first annual 4H dairy tour and conference for 150 outstanding 4H club youngsters from 15 states, and the collegiate and junior dairy cattle judging contests.

Destruction Of Religion Is Aim Of Communists

By J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the F.B.I.

PAULIST FEATURE SERVICE
I can't understand how anyone could confuse Communism with Christianity. Karl Marx coined the phrase, "Religion is the opium of the people." He ion in itself—a religion utterly opposed to Christianity. It has no place for man's soul, for God for heaven or hell.

Our struggle with Communism is more than that of differing political systems. The struggle is essentially religious. Communism attacks all forms of religion that base themselves on belief in God.

Part of the Communist plan is confusion. They hope to divide our people and stir up strife between Catholic and Protestant. Another tactic is deception. Time and again they inject their slogans and propaganda into religious groups on themes of "peace," "democracy," "aid to the poor," and "civil liberties." They will even use things like the Sermon on the Mount and the Christmas story to further their own aims.

Religious people must realize that Communism is their great enemy. The zeal of the early Christians overcame paganism in Rome and civilized the savage gods of the northern barbarians. That same zeal could convert godless Communists. It is up to American Christians to recapture that indomitable spirit and to free the world from this menace.

Frankfort Herd Is No 1. Again In Dairy Rating

The Holstein herd of Valy & Homerding, Frankfort, again led Dairy Herd Improvement Association No. 1 in August by averaging 1330 pounds of milk and 46 pounds of butterfat during the month.

Other high ranking herds in this group last month, with breeds and productions, were as follows: Arthur G. Henke & Son, Tinley Park, Brown Swiss, 1018 - 39; Wilbur P. Heisner, Manhattan, Holstein, 1092 - 35; Wm. Bernard & Son, Mokena, Holstein, 1031 - 35; Raymond Termunde, Worth, Holstein, 922 - 33.

Glenwood School, Glenwood, had a Holstein which topped the association in individual production in August with 1742 pounds of milk and 96 pounds of butterfat. Valy & Homerding cows took second and third places with 2362 - 94 and 2260 - 84, respectively.

One of Arthur G. Henke & Son's Brown Swiss was fourth in individual production with 1649 - 81, and Walnut Grove farm, Tinley Park was fifth with 1553 - 75. This association is tested by Loren Williams.

ELWOOD RESEARCH STATION TOUR

On Thursday, September 22, at 1:00 p.m., the Elwood Research Station will be host to the northeastern Illinois counties. This is a new experiment field, located about one-half mile south of Elwood on Route 66.

Those attending will see soil and water losses from different rotations, contour strip cropping, legume intercropping in skip row corn, corn growing from mulch planting, alfalfa varieties, terracing, and surface drainage. There are 9 different stops on the tour which will be a flat top wagon caravan.

Because this is a new field which was taken over by the University of Illinois on July 1, the researchers are interested in knowing what the farmers want. What experiment they feel they need. This is your opportunity to make these recommendations.

Don't Judge Tree Value By Its Height, Experts Say

"The buyer who judges a tree's value by its height goes 'way out on a limb.' That's the word of the state's 'Plant Illinois' Committee.

Many homeowners are puzzled when they see a 10 foot tree offered for half the cost of a six foot tree of the same species. Some trees will grow 10 feet in three years, the experts explain, and can thus be sold at "low" prices. The age and condition of the tree are far

The committee says the best or diameter of the trunk. The guide — the one usually followed by experts — is the caliper, older, thicker tree will have a better root system, heavier bark and a fuller top-branching structure, more important however.

THIS WEEK AT DIXON SPRINGS

A round up of the week's work, activities, and observations at the University of Illinois Dixon Springs Experiment Station near Robbs in southern Illinois, prepared by the Station's staff

Beautiful Lake Glendale Lake Glendale, a restful, refreshing little lake nestles in a valley of dense short-leaf pines near the Dixon Springs Experiment Station. It affords public swimming, fishing and picnic facilities. And it also gives us a lot of information.

Don Hanson of the Illinois Natural History Survey has been studying the habits, food, and growth of fish in the lake. Now personnel of the State Water Survey, assisted by Station foresters, are making a detailed topographic and siltation survey. The information will enable researchers to figure how much the lake holds above and below spillway level. The map-fertile and on better soil than ping job is part of a project to figure water yields from the lake's 1,500 acre watershed.

Randy Boggess, Station forester, says that information from this study, one of few in the country, should help cities, industry and people with water shortages.

Correction. Southern Illinois cattle are increasing faster than any of us suspected. Perhaps this is a year for twins. Anyway, one ranch in this area reports a 110 percent calf crop. Before we said that 1,200 feeder cattle would be sold at the station on October 6. But a recount reveals that over 2,000 head will be sold. So the sale has been changed from one to two days. Mark down the dates of October 6 and 7.

Pasture Seeding Following Corn A new seeding of alfalfa and brome is now being made on the Morse tract at the Station. Since this tract is more much of the Station land, alfalfa and brome were selected. On areas that have been ill-treated, heavily cropped and badly eroded, soils must be built up before we can expect success with alfalfa and brome. The Morse tract was in corn, which was removed from silage this summer. Soil tests told us the land needed phosphate, so we spread 1,000 pounds of rock phosphate per acre. The corn stubble was disked.

Now we're drilling winter oats at the rate of two bushels an acre. Two hundred pounds of 4-16-16 per acre was drilled with the oats as a starter fertilizer. We seeded 15 pounds of alfalfa and 6 pounds of brome with a roller seeder. This rolling should produce more oats as well as better hay and pasture.

Lespedeza has been a wonderful crop for hay and pasture in southern Illinois. In fact, lespepeza is usually seeded with the general pasture mixtures at the Station. When we speak of lespepeza, we usually think of "Korean." But George McKibben, our crops and soils man who has been testing several lespepeza varieties, says it appears that a variety known as Climax has an edge in yield over several others, including Korean.

Climax also appears to reseed as well as the others, or better. It is a little earlier maturing than Korean, and that might account for its higher yields in dry years as well as its better reseeding habit.

He is home on a 30 day furlough and will return to Alaska Oct. 13. There was snow, sleet and rain near Fairbanks when he left there Aug. 29 and he is not now used to our warm weather.

Mrs. Lydia Ryan attended the organ dedication service held in the St. Raymond Cathedral in Joliet Sunday afternoon. Mario Salvador who is organist and choir director of the cathedral in St. Louis, was the organist, who is well known in musical circles for his ability. In addition there was a 50 boy soprano choir who rendered several selections and also sang with the adult men's choir. This organ cost $5300 and is a Wick organ made in Highland, Ill. Timely Tips For The Home

A quick, easy way to make a miniature trellis for house plants... snip off the hook of a wire coat hanger, bend the rest of the wire into a loop, thrust the end into the pot.

Don't take a chance on snipping the fabric when removing a button. Slip a comb under the button and cut the thread with a razor blade.

Sandburg Drops Opening Tilts Of Grid Season

Carl Sandburg high football team lost both ends of a twin bill with Immaculate Conception high of Elmhurst to open the 1955 season last Saturday before a crowd of some 900 fans.

The Sandburg frosh-soph outfit dropped its game 19 to 0, while the varsity score was I. C. 20 and Sandburg 0.

The first quarter of the varsity contest was scoreless, each team making approximately the same yardage. The period ended with the ball in I. C.'s possession on Eagles 30, and when play was resumed in the second quarter the visitors lost little time in scoring a touchdown on two running plays, and used a third to account for the point after touchdown.

The Eagles fullback, Blaha, ran the kickoff back 25 yards, to the I. C. 45. Blaha, Dumney, Partoll and Kehr pounded their way for another 15 yards before they had to kick. The Elmhurst crew incurred a couple of penalties on their march but that didn't stop them. A 35 yard pass to Bender set up a scoring opportunity for the visitors and Arenz went over for a T. D. on the next play. The extra point was kicked this time and Sandburg barely had time to get an offensive under way when the half ended with the Elmhurst team on top 14 to 0.

Fumbles Costly
The Eagles received the kick off at the beginning of the second half but a fumble on the play gave I. C. the ball on the Sandburg 35. In four plays the visitors shoved over another touchdown but missed the kick for the extra point.

I. C. kicked off again and again there was a fumble by the receiver with I. C. recovering on the Sandburg 40. Elmhurst pushed down to the 25 but the Eagles defense stiffened and held. Sandburg then launched an offensive that bogged down on its own 35 yard line because of a fumble. The third period ended with I. C. in possession of the ball on the Sandburg 23 yard line.

I. C. shot a pass that was grabbed by the receiver on the Sandburg 12 and he scampered on to the 3 yard line before being downed. Then Elmhurst fumbled with Blaha recovering and running 17 yards before he was felled. There was another fumble on the next play which was recovered by I. C. but penalties and incomplete passes stopped the visitors and the game ended with Sandburg with the ball in enemy territory.

2 Games This Week
In the frosh-soph game most of the 23 men that got into the game for Sandburg had never played before. Parks at quarter put up a nice game on offense and hunted well. Gorman, at a tackle spot, looked impressive.

Two touchdowns in the first quarter gave the Elmhurst squad a 13 to 0 lead. In the next three periods the host team buckled down and limited the visitors to one more T. D.

Conference play will begin Friday for the varsity. Sandburg is to play Evergreen Park—there—Friday afternoon, at 3 o'clock.

The Sandburg frosh-soph will play at Evergreen Park in a league tilt Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

The first freshman game of the season is also against Evergreen Park and is to be played there Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 27 at 4 o'clock.

Bremen Loses Twin Bill To Niles Elevens

Bremen high Braves lost their first start of the 1955 football season but looked good despite the fact that they come out on the short end of a 31 to 13 score in a game with the strong Niles Township high squad. The game was played at Skokie last Saturday.

The two teams battled on even terms for the first half which ended in a 13-14 tie, but the Braves bench was too thin. Midway of the third quarter the superior reserve strength of Niles became too much for the tiring Braves and the northerners piled up three touchdowns in the last two periods.

George Stelmach, fleet Bremen back, scored both of the Braves touchdowns. With the aid of some fine blocking Stelmach scampered around right end early in the first quarter and went 24 yards for a touchdown, to give Bremen the lead.

In the second period Stelmach took the kick-off that followed a T.D. by Niles and went 80 yards for a touchdown. Bill Lindsay added an extra point with his toe so at half's end the two teams stood even 13 to 13. But Niles had too many horses in the second half and at the end was on top 31 to 13.

In the frosh-soph game preceding the varsity contest Niles won, 13 to 0.

Bremen will have its first home game tomorrow, a non-conference tilt against Wilmington.

Thomas Paine was the first to write the words, "United States of America."

Young Riders To Give Show

The Mounted Junior Rangers and Town and Country Equestrian association's young horsemen will compete for riding honors in a co-operative horse show Sunday afternoon, Sept. 25, at the Frances Raker School of Horsemanship, 127th and Central ave. in Tinley Park.

Selected from Sunday's competition will be Town and Country's champion in the "hiring" and "saddle seat" classes to represent that organization at the International Horse Show to be held in Chicago in November. Fred Kitzing, a director of Town and Country, will do the judging. Following the competitive events there will be exhibitions in jumping and games on horseback by members of both riding groups.

There will also be a childrens polo match between the Junior Rangers and the Town and Country teams as a pre season game to their regular Saturday night matches at the Chicago armory this fall. A junior "hunt" group will also present an exhibition "drag" hunt.

Proceeds of the show will go to the Town and Country children's group. All children will be admitted free.

N. Lenox Sportsmen To Run Trap-Shoots

Officers also will be nominated at this meeting, and all members are urged to attend. Plans have been made to run a trap-shoot every other Sunday, at the old ball diamond on Lincoln highway starting Sunday, Sept. 25 thru Nov. 11. Prizes will be awarded.

Charm School For Dogs To Graduate Class Next Tuesday

The Blue Island Dog Training club will hold its eleventh graduation next Tuesday, Sept. 27 in the gym of Sanders school, 13010 Division St., Blue Island, beginning at 8:00 pm. There is no admission charge.

Dog owners in particular are invited to attend, as these exercises are demonstrative of "What the Well Trained Canine Should Know." Director of training is John Van Donk who has kennels in Frankfort. Mr. Van Donk is reputed as being one of the best trainers in the middlewest.

A new class will begin Oct. 4.

Watering Still Helpful To Trees Declare Experts

Extremely hot, dry summer weather in the east, midwest and south brought out unusually large numbers of red spiders, aphids and other insects to plague shade trees and lower their vitality.

Spraying won't help now, advise Davey tree experts, as leaves soon will start to fall; some have already started to drop. But heavy watering until the ground freezes can help restore vigor to pest-weakened trees.

Feeding also is advised, especially for trees that have gone dry much of the summer. Even though trees soon will be dormant for the winter, they still can absorb nutrients that will give them a head start in the spring. That's because root growth and activity continue well into the dormant season. A tree food high in nitrogen content should be chosen for best results. Water and food should be applied over the entire root area. If this is done properly, much of the damage caused by summer pests can be undone before cold weather sets in. But plans should be made for spraying next spring as soon as the pests reappear.

Trees that go into winter in a weakened condition are easy targets for many troubles that vigorous trees can easily survive. This is another good reason for fall watering and feeding.

A PICTURE OF PROGRESS

THE FIRST TRANSPORTATION OF OIL WAS MADE BY FLATBOATS ON RAFTS ONTO WHICH WERE LOADED OIL BARRELS OF CRUDE OIL. THE FIRST TANK BARGE, WITH A CAPACITY OF 400 BARRELS, WAS DEVELOPED IN 1862. THERE ARE 405 VESSELS IN TODAY'S PRIVATELY OWNED TANKER FLEET, AND 2,150 BARGES OPERATING ON DOMESTIC WATERWAYS.

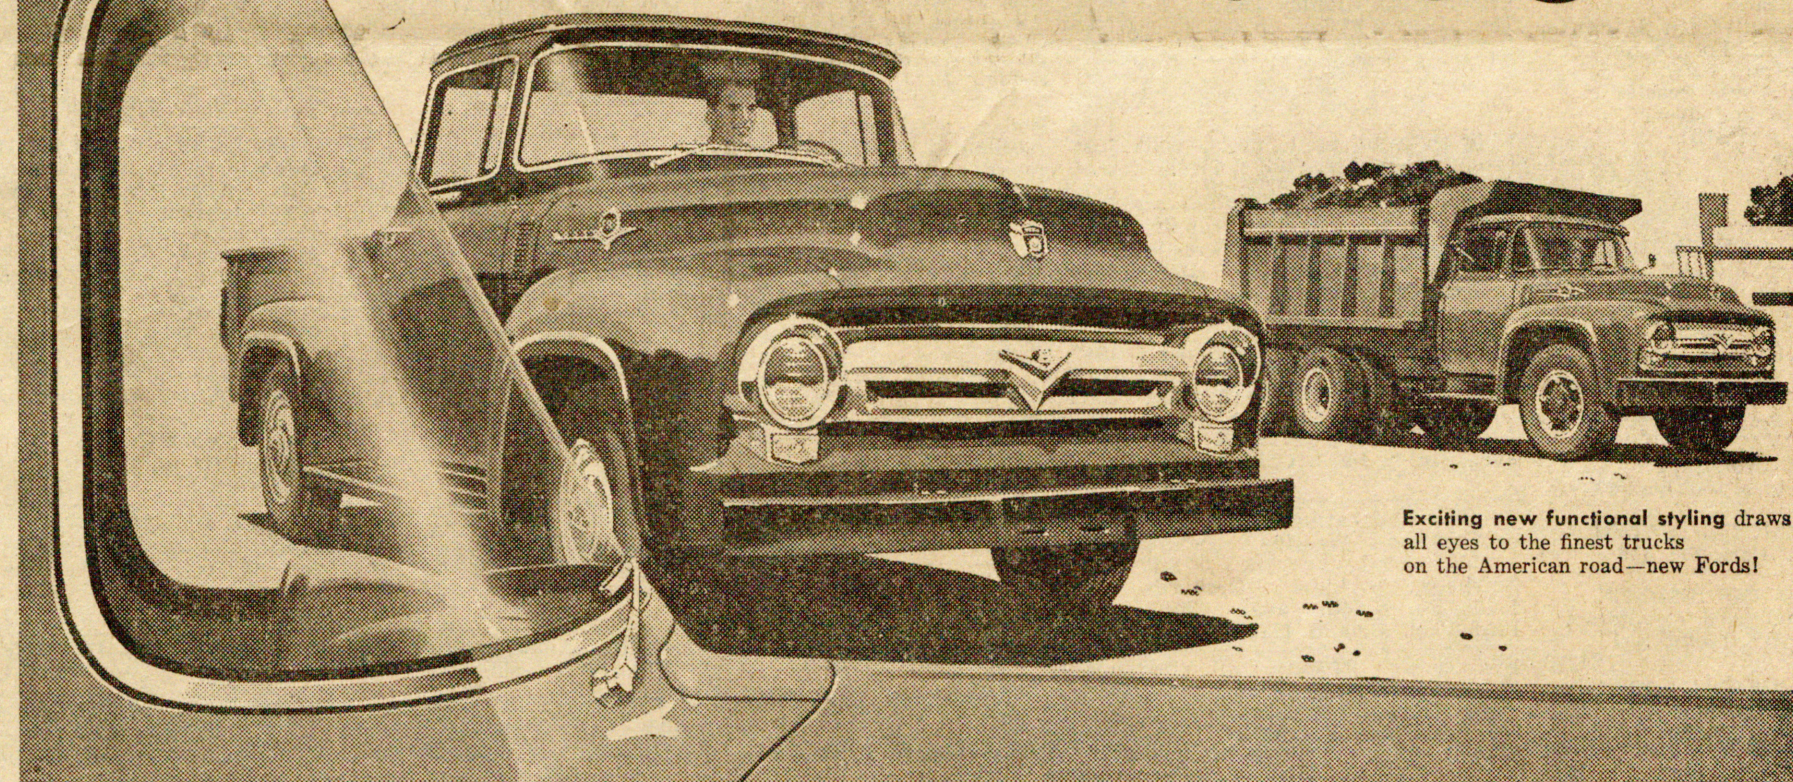

RAILROADS CAME INTO THE OIL TRANSPORTATION PICTURE IN 1860. AT FIRST, BARRELS WERE LOADED ON FLAT CARS, BUT BY 1865, TWO WOODEN TANKS, HOLDING 40 TO 50 BARRELS EACH, WERE PLACED UPRIGHT ON THE CARS. MOST MODERN TANK CARS, OF WHICH THERE ARE 115,339, CARRY EITHER 8,000 OR 10,000 GALLONS EACH.

THE FIRST FIVE-MILE PIPE LINE, BUILT IN 1885, IS A FAR CRY FROM THE 166,723 MILES OF PIPE LINE IN USE TODAY. THE FIRST LONG LINE WAS FINISHED IN 1879 AND COVERED A DISTANCE OF 109 MILES. LAST YEAR, 662,446,000 BARRELS OF MAJOR REFINED PRODUCTS MOVED THROUGH THE COUNTRY'S PIPE LINES.

FORERUNNERS OF TODAY'S 30,673 TANK TRUCKS WERE THE HORSE-DRAWN KEROSENE WAGONS OF THE 1900'S.

THE STORY OF PROGRESS IN PETROLEUM TRANSPORTATION IS A STORY OF ADVANCEMENT IN OPERATIONAL TECHNIQUES, SAFETY DEVICES, AND PROCEDURES. THE RESULT IS SERVICE TO THE CONSUMER AT ALL TIMES. PETROLEUM TRANSPORTATION SEES TO THAT.

SELECTED SHRUBS FOR CITY AREAS

In urban areas, some flowering trees and shrubs will withstand smoke and fumes better and require less natural light than others, the Plant Illinois Committee advises.

Among the flowering trees that grow well under city conditions are certain varieties of dogwood, flowering crabapples, flowering plum and hawthorns. Others may be suggested by your local nurseryman on the basis of his experience with the conditions in your particular town.

Some of the flowering shrubs that thrive in most Illinois cities include forsythia, different types of roses, mockorange, lilacs, honey suckle and spirea.

GOOD HOUSEKEEPING AT NEW HOMESITE PAYS WHEN PLANTING

When building a new home you can greatly simplify future planting of trees, shrubs and evergreens by keeping the grounds free of debris during the construction period.

The state's "Plant Illinois" Committee advises prospective homeowners to clear all lime, plaster and other refuse from the ground before spreading topsoil. The area within 6 feet around the house is most important, because the foundation plantings will occupy this area.

The committee recommends that 15 to 18 inches of topsoil be used around the foundation. The subgrade should be established at a level that permits application of 4 to 6 inches of topsoil in general lawn areas.

May 30 is not observed as Memorial Day in all states.

House Of Our God

Lesson for September 25, 1955

WHY support churches? The first thing we need to understand about this, as Christians, is that support of the church is not optional, but a "must." During a year's time every citizen is confronted with more "causes" than most of us can keep up with. We are invited to share in many good works, orphanages, schools for the blind, boys' towns, foundations for the study of various diseases, hospitals for crippled children, the Red Cross, all sorts of things. Most of us have to decide which we shall send our few dollars to, and which not. But if a Christian thinks he has a right to decide whether or not to support the church, he does not understand what the church is. The central reason why the church calls for the support of the people of God is that it is the "house of our God."

Here They Know You

If those poor people in ancient Jerusalem pledged themselves to support the house of God, we who are Christians have even more reason to do so. For one thing, the church is where we really belong. Where else in the world is a person recognized for what he is, a child of God? Elsewhere you are a statistic, a consumer, a customer, a taxpayer, a cost item, a voter. These may be important facts about you. But the most important fact about any human being is not that he is kin to the human race, important though that is. The big fact is that every human being is made by God, for fellowship with him. Every man alive is a child of God. Either he knows that or he does not know it. Vast numbers of the human race live as if they were orphans of the storm, they live pigs' lives like the prodigal in Jesus' parable. But no one will tell them they are children of God. No one will tell them of the Father's house, no one will recognize them for what they are. Only in the house of our God."

Here Citizens Are Trained

There are very short-sighted people who may tell you that money put into support of the church could better be spent in civic improvement, such as better schools or sanitation. On the contrary, supporting the church is the best thing that can be done for the betterment of society. It cannot be said too often: even if the church were only a listening post, even if a church did nothing at all but hold a meeting on Sunday, even if a church might as well be laid flat in ashes six days in the week, for all the work it does—still, even if it did no more than hear God's messages once a week, it would be doing a great and unique thing. For the people who hear those messages and believe them would come to know their true relation to God and their duty in his sight; they would live not as animals, not as the "beasts that perish" but as immortal sons and daughters of the Most High. Then if the church is more than a listening post, if it puts its members to work, they will be actually taught and trained in Christian living.

Here God's Will Is Sought and Taught

Are we talking about the real church or are we idealizing it? Well, of course no church is quite ideal. But taking the church by and large, these things are true, the church at its best wants them to come true, this is what it is driving at. For the church is the only place in town where large groups of people join in trying to know the will of God, and how to find it and how to do it. The church is the place where problems, personal and/or social, can and ought to be discussed in the light of God's Word and Will. It is the place where life is looked at in the light of heaven. A church that does not live up to its high calling is hardly worth support; but a church where there is a sincere effort to know what God wants for this community and for our part in it, a church where there is brave and honest opportunity for minister and people to think and to study and to speak out for God and his ways, a church which by prayer and service keeps the door open toward God, such a church is indeed a House of God; how can a Christian refuse to support it?

ALPINE

Mrs. E. Mrosek
Orland 2841-R

Chalfant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Williams, left Sunday for Purdue University where he will major in chemical engineering. He will reside at Carry hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Vaitkus of Berwyn and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bradley of Chicago were Sunday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Reeves.

Mr. and Mrs. James Splitok, Connie, Linda and Tommy of Chicago were Sunday afternoon guests of his sister and family Mr. and Mrs. Henry Felsch.

The Freeman fellowship of the Marley Community Baptist church held a meeting in the Harwood Stellwagen home Sunday evening. Following the business session, refreshments were served by Mrs. Stellwagen.

Ben Sylla, assistant superintendent of schools, was a recent visitor at Maue school.

The Maue PTA held an open house last Wednesday to welcome our new teachers, Miss Shoemaker and Mrs. Mienert. We were pleased to see so many parents there. We hope they will continue attending our meetings.

Each teacher was presented a corsage upon her arrival as was Mrs. Strassenberg, president of the PTA. After the short business meeting the parents visited with the teachers in their rooms. Refreshments were served. Maue PTA is a member of the Southwestern Area Council, District 19.

Pack 218 of the Orland Park Cub Scouts held its monthly meeting Friday, Sept. 16. Den 5 of Alpine are now Cub Scouts. The meeting was to honor Den 5 in passing their Bobcat requirements. The five boys were awarded their bobcat pins. Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Cruise were given Den Mother pins.

The Bobcat pins were put on the boys by one of their parents. It is pinned on upside down until the boy does a good deed - then it can be turned right side up.

The other 4 dens gave a Cub Scout cheer for the new den. A den flag was also presented to the Cub Scouts of Den 5. At each pack meeting the den having the most parents present is allowed the honor of taking the attendance plaque to their den. Den 5 has the plaque and will be allowed to keep it as long as their parents attend the monthly pack meetings as they did the last one. We hope den 5 can keep it for a while.

Refreshments were served. It was a very exciting evening for James Walker, Steven Koveikis, Bill Lohmann, Tony Molitor and Jimmy Cruise. Also for den chief, Peter Lohmann.

Irwin Ernst Family Had Exciting Trip

Mrs. Irwin Ernst and Chuckie and Suzanne of Tinley Park recently returned from a month's stay in California where they visited her parents in Santa Monica. While there the children visited Disneyland; the Pinky Lee TV show and Kratt's Berry Farms. Disneyland is a wonderful place for children and grownups alike. Adventure Land, Frontierland, Tomorrowland, Fantasyland and Main street USA are all part of this great production.

Main street consists of authentic stores all open for tourist business. Frontierland, as the name implies, depicts the old west with cowboys and Indians. The Adventureland high point home again.

of interest is the Congo boat-ride, where rubberized animals appear in the water and on the shores to the delight of the children.

Fantasyland is entered through gates which take the visitor right into the palace of Sleeping Beauty. The most exciting ride here is the Peter Pan aerial venture.

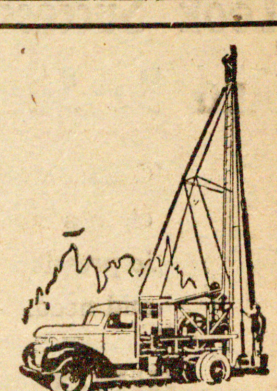

No visit to Disneyland would be complete without a ride with Casey Jones on the miniature train. A grandfather or rich uncle would be handy to have along when planning a visit to Disneyland, so Mrs. Ernst reports.

Suzanne celebrated her fourth birthday at her great, great aunt's home in Alhambra, Cal. Her grandfather, who is a chef at the exclusive Rancho Country club, baked the special birthday cake.

Kratt's Berry farm is an authentic reproduction of an early western town. Children may ride the stage coach which will be held up by bandits, thrilling them no end; they panned for gold and visited Old McDonald's farm.

An exciting month soon passed for the Ernsts too quickly, but everyone is glad to be back

Story of Lincoln-Way High is Told in Two Magazine Articles

Two articles dealing with Lincoln Way high school have been published recently in two magazines, Illinois Education and The School Executive. The latter is a national publication.

The article carried in the state publication was written by Francine Richard, assistant editor, while that appearing in the national magazine was the work of A. Hunter Chapman, superintendent of Lincoln-Way.

Both feature the fact that the school has a 70-acre campus, which is larger than the campus area of many small colleges. Lincoln-Way's 70 acres are allocated in this manner:

Frontage	14
Parking and drives	1 1/2
State right of way	1
Building	1
Timber and picnic area	7
Future Farmers & Voc-ag	35
Athletic field	3
Practice fields	3
Play areas	1
Plantings	2
Play courts	2 1/2

In the survey made under the direction of the University of Illinois preliminary to setting up the school it was recommended that the grounds include an athletic field and stadium, outdoor basketball, tennis and volleyball courts, ball diamond, roller and ice skating areas, a swimming pool and physical education areas for boys and girls.

Many Functions
But it was early decided, Supt. Chapman points out, that the site would have more functions to serve than physical education.

Thirty-five acres have been turned over to the vocational agriculture program, which includes fruit growing, experimental planting and contour planting. And then there is a natural science laboratory, a pond and a picnic ground—the latter for the use of the people of the high school district.

Plans call for construction of a dam in the development of the pond and stocking the water with fish. Fireplaces and picnic tables are to be constructed by the industrial arts department.

The students are working in close cooperation with various community organizations, thus becoming acquainted with civic responsibilities. The state conservation department will aid in the pond development and provides shrubs and trees for erosion control.

Card clubs, sportsmen's clubs have donated more than a thousand dollars worth of planting for the site, and the Lions clubs of Frankfort, Mokena, New Lenox and Manhattan are aiding the plans for the community picnic and recreational area.

The school itself is functional through yet it has a pleasing design and when one stops to think of all the things the people of the Lincoln-Way district have for the $1.2 million dollars they voted in bonds, one realizes that they have a bargain.

The Lincoln-Way district—in case someone just came in—was formerly what was known as non-high school territory. People living there paid a tax which was used to pay tuition costs for pupils of the area in neighboring high schools of their choice. Neighboring districts were not too happy with the arrangement any place in the state as the tuition fees did not include any payment on capital expenditures.

Wanted Own District
Finally the state legislature voted non-high school territory out of existence. Areas involved had the choice of annexing to existing high school district or—if they had the requisite assessed valuation—forming a high school district of their own.

The people of this area studied and discussed the subject thoroughly and finally decided to form their own district, giving the youngsters a school of their own. The district was formed in 1951. In June, 1952, the $1.2 million bond issue was authorized and the size for the school chosen.

The far seeing board of education did not wait until the building was finished before it hired a superintendent. It employed Mr. Chapman, who had been superintendent of the community unit district at Arenzville, to begin the planning of the most effective educational program.

The board, Mr. Chapman and the architects cooperated in the planning of the school with but one guide—what would be best for the children of the community.

It was a big job—this building of a district and a school from scratch. But educators who have visited Lincoln-Way and have studied its program say that an excellent job has been done.

The school opened this September for its second year. Its population is growing and is expected to continue growing but the building is so designed that it can be added to and meet future needs.

There is much to be done yet in carrying out the initial plans but everyone—parents, residents of the area as a whole, the students, the faculty, the administrators and the board members are all enthusiastic about the school and its future. With that kind of spirit it was pointed out success is certain.

Blue Island To Celebrate Railroad Days

Blue Island will look like a town wholly populated by train employees instead of just partially so, if everyone heeds Mayor John M. Hart's request to don railroad garb during Blue Island's third annual railroad days, Thursday, Sept. 29 thru Sunday, Oct. 2, sponsored by the Blue Island Chamber of Commerce.

The community served by five railroad lines and the home of three railroad yards and a division office will not only emphasize its railroad prominence but its growing business and industrial activity thru a four day exposition at Eagles Hall, Grove Street and Artesian ave., during Railroad days.

The trade and industry fair will open at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 29 and run every afternoon and evening thru Sunday, October 2.

There will be special entertainment nightly and on Sunday afternoon. The parade will be Saturday night, Oct. 1.

25% Underplanting In '56 Will Not Cut Wheat Allotments

Wheat growers whose 1956 wheat acreage in as much as 25 percent below their farm wheat acreage allotment will get credit for the full allotment acreage in calculating future farm allotments.

In other words, Chairman Roy M. Smith of the Will county agricultural stabilization and conservation committee explains, if the farm's wheat acreage for next year's harvest is only three-fourths of the farm allotment, the future wheat acreage allotments established for the farm will be figured as though the full allotment had been planted. Heretofore reductions of more than 10 percent were considered in calculating future allotments. Each year's farm allotment, the chairman explains, is based primarily on the farm's wheat acreage for the previous three years. Under the new ruling, even if the wheat acreage is as much as one-fourth less than the farm allotment, future allotments will be calculated as though the full allotment had been harvested.

A University of Illinois livestock specialist says that it's probably best for each hog producer to "work down" to the weaning age that will best fit his management conditions and give him the lowest total cost per pig.

Mr. America First Heaves Chapeau in Ring For Governor

Earlier this month Secretary of State Carpenter sent out notice that he was just about to mail out data on next year's election schedule but Lar Daly, of Chicago, who always bills himself as Lar (America First) Daly, and sometimes as "Mr. America First," is ahead of him.

Mr. Daly has been a candidate for various offices in Republican primaries in the past. He now announces himself as a candidate for governor and has sent out what is known in the printing trade as a "flyer," asking support of everyone in the G.O.P. primary to be held April 10.

In his announcement, on which Mr. Daly is pictured in the habitations costumers and cartoonists reserve for Uncle Sam—including the stovepipe hat with stars on the band—he takes a swipe at President Eisenhower and aims a couple of verbal punches at Gov. Stratton. Mr. Daly refers to Gov. Stratton as "High Tax Willie."

From 40 to 50 students are accepted each year in the freshman class at the College of Veterinary Medicine at the University of Illinois.
